

THE NEWSPAPER

Family Flounders in Water

After a local bridge is washed out a family attempting to reach Jefferson meets calamity on the river.

www.flickr.com

Mule cart similar to to that used by the family.

the one who had broken his leg's tools. Eventually the family regrouped at a neighbor's house to continue their journey to Jefferson.

www.flickr.com

Late in the afternoon of yesterday the Bundren family attempted to cross the river to reach Jackson to bury their recently deceased mother. The Bundrens are notorious for being rather strange. This was upheld as the family tried to cross.

Calamity struck as the coffin holding the mother, Addie tipped over and fell in. The sons, one of the ones in the cart jumped in to save the coffin, but he ended up breaking his leg.

The other also jumped in and tried to save the coffin but came up empty handed. The boy on horse back saved the entire operation. He saved the coffin and got

